Dear Fellows and Emeritus Fellows of the Collegium Ramazzini,

There are still four days left to submit your registration and abstract for Ramazzini Days 2013. Check the attached list to make sure that your name appears among registered guests. If not, then we do not know that you are joining us! Kindly complete your online registration before September 15th:
<http://www.collegiumramazzini.org/ramazzinidays2013.asp>

Arrival and departure plans should be communicated as soon as possible to Conference Co-Manager Federica Scagliarini at events@ramazzini.it.

September 15th is also the deadline for submitting an abstract for the Saturday Work of the Fellows oral communications and poster sessions. One-page abstracts should be sent to Priority Topics Committee Co-Chair Melissa McDiarmid at Mmcdiarm@medicine.umaryland.edu.

The online program has been updated with the details of Sunday's scientific session "Occupational and environmental health and safety in a changing global economy". The Executive Council would like to extend a special thanks to Fellow Ronald Dobbin for his work in coordinating and chairing this interesting session. The Executive Council is also pleased to announce that the 2013 Ramazzini Award will be presented to Dr. John Froines for his outstanding career in occupational and environmental health research and advocacy, especially his pioneering work to develop the federal occupational lead and cotton dust exposure standards in the United States and his work in California that led to the recognition of diesel exhaust as a significant toxic air contaminant, preserving the health and the lives of millions.

This year's conference will also include the special recognition of Kathleen Ruff, Founder of RightOnCanada & Senior Advisor to the Rideau Institute, for her outstanding leadership in the international effort to ban the ongoing use of asbestos.

You will receive additional information regarding membership nominations and the election of officers following the closure of the registration period.

kind regards from Bologna,
KK
